It was announced this afternoon that M. Barthou had postponed his departure to Paris to see Premier Poincare.

The second round in the duel occurred at 5 o'clock before the subcommission during a discussion of Article 2 of the English memorandum regarding war debts. Barthou wanted full payment though debts were English. Lloyd George and the Italians wanted immediate reduction of the debts by a percentage fixed by arbitrators. Barthou said he was not bound by the letter of April 15 to Tchitcherin because Rakovsky interpreted the phrase, "writing down" as "wiping out the debts."
